MISSION

Our educational mission in the School of Arts is to prepare students not only to work but also to live with integrity and meaning. Through the arts, humanities, social sciences, and education, students are encouraged to develop a zest for intellectual challenges, a love of beauty, an awareness of their own culture and moral convictions, an understanding of self, empathy and compassion for others, an appreciation of cultural diversity, and a sense of their relationship with and responsibility to a larger community. These goals are sought within an atmosphere of free inquiry, dialogue, and interfaith concern.

The School of Arts is the heart of the educational experience at Christian Brothers University. Through courses taken in the School of Arts, majors from all four Schools develop broad general knowledge in the arts, humanities, and social sciences. They develop skills in different forms of inquiry, abstract logical thinking, and critical analysis. Studies in the School of Arts provide an array of opportunities for students to enhance their abilities to think, read, write, and speak while cultivating historical, ethical, religious, literary, and social scientific consciousness.

In choosing a major within the School of Arts, students join a particular intellectual community of learners and take part in its special way of exploring the world and the self, thereby preparing for a wide variety of educational and professional choices. All School of Arts majors take a variety of courses from across departmental disciplines selected for the purpose of providing breadth, depth, and richness to their educational experience.

All of the courses needed to obtain a degree in each major are specified within the course requirement presentations that follow.

THE SIX DEPARTMENTS WHICH COMPOSE THE SCHOOL OF ARTS ARE:

BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES which includes study in Psychology and Sociology as well as Anthropology and Criminal Justice. The department offers a B.A. degree in both Applied Psychology and Psychology and minors in Behavioral Sciences, Criminal Justice, Engineering Psychology, Gerontology, Psychology, and Sociology;

EDUCATION which includes undergraduate, post-baccalaureate, and graduate programs leading to licensure by the Tennessee Department of Education at both elementary and secondary levels. In conjunction with academic departments in the School of Arts and in the School of Sciences, the Department of Education prepares undergraduate students earning BS or BA degrees in a number of areas to meet teacher licensure requirements (See Page 55 for details);

FINE ARTS AND SPEECH which includes study in Art, Music, Speech, and Theatre. The department offers courses under the following headings: Art, Music, Speech, and Theater;

HISTORY AND POLITICAL SCIENCE which offers a major in History and minors in History, Political Science, and American Studies;

LITERATURE AND LANGUAGES which offers majors and minors in English, a major in English for Corporate Communications and Management, and minors in foreign language;

RELIGION AND PHILOSOPHY which offers courses under the headings of Humanities, Philosophy, and Religious Studies, and a program in Peace Studies. The Religion and Philosophy major combines core courses in Philosophy and Religious Studies.

The course of studies for each of the degrees offered within the School is designed to provide the student with opportunities to choose courses outside of his or her major either from among the many courses provided by the School of Arts or from among those provided by the other Schools. A faculty advisor is assigned to each student to assist in selecting courses and in shaping the total academic experience.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

All students majoring in disciplines within the School of Arts are required to complete courses in the Liberal Arts Core. The purpose of the Liberal Arts Core is to provide a common background of knowledge in the humanities and social sciences which serves as a context for more specialized study in the individual major. The core is intended to provide exposure to the differing methods and modes of inquiry appropriate to various disciplines as well as to the assumptions upon which the disciplines are grounded, their knowledge claims, and their limitations. It seeks to provide opportunities for students to make conscious connections between specialized learning and basic human concerns and to build a durable foundation for lifelong learning.

Core courses seek the development of skills in different forms of inquiry, abstract logical thinking, critical analysis and informed judgement. Particular emphasis is placed on the development of the ability to bring what one has learned in one context to another, from one discipline to another, and from one community to another. These goals are sought within an atmosphere of free inquiry, dialogue, and interfaith concern.

Some majors may require specific courses (see following pages) to fulfill the Liberal Arts Core or the University General Education requirements (See Page 33). Students seeking Teacher Licensure must meet special requirements (See Page 55). The Liberal Arts Core requirements are as follows:

FINE ARTS ELECTIVES (3 hours)

Any course(s) in Art or Music, or THEA 115, 221, 315, or 317.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE (6-12 hours; see requirements for specific majors)

All hours must be in the same foreign language.

When 12 hours are required, 6 must be American History, 6 in non-American History.

HUMANITIES (3 hours)

LITERATURE (hours vary)

Most Liberal Arts majors require 3 or more additional hours of literature beyond the 3-hour General Education requirement. ENG 221 and 222 are recommended in most cases; see course requirements for particular degrees.

POLITICAL SCIENCE ELECTIVE (3 hours)

May be replaced with elective hours if the student is pursuing a minor.

Transfer students who seek initial teaching licensure through CBU and who wish to have all courses in general education, the major, and professional education studies will be asked to take appropriate Praxis II tests to verify and confirm the courses that they wish to transfer to CBU, according to the following guidelines:

1. Students who wish to transfer to CBU as second semester sophomores, junior, or seniors with intentions to become licensed in elementary education (K-6) and who are seeking admission to the Teacher Education Program must also take and pass the 014 Elementary Education Content Knowledge Test in the Praxis II series as part of their admission requirements.

Relative to #1 and #2, if the student does not pass a test or tests, the Director of Teacher Education, together with the Dean of Academic Services (and the Director of the Evening Program if student is enrolled in the Evening Program) and the Chair of the Department of Education may require that the student take additional undergraduate courses before retaking the tests as part of the completion of the initial licensure program.
4. In order for transfer students to be recommended by CBU's Department of Education for an initial teaching license, a minimum of 12 credit hours of course work in professional education must be taken at CBU. In addition, the professional semester (student teaching plus seminar) must be completed at CBU.

Elementary Licensure: Undergraduate students seeking licensure as elementary teachers must also meet the requirements outlined for the B.A. in Liberal Studies.

Students interested in secondary licensure should obtain special advising materials about early admissions into the M.A.T. program during their senior undergraduate year.

Foreign Language Licensure: Pending approval by the State of Tennessee, undergraduate students seeking licensure as foreign language teachers in French or Spanish may become licensed for either K-12 or secondary (7-12) by completing the requirements of a foreign language licensure program as a second endorsement accompanying another licensure program. Please see the Interim Director of Teacher Education for information about becoming licensed in a foreign language.

Students should check with the Department of Education about the approval status of any program or licensure area of interest to them.

Post-baccalaureate licensure programs and graduate degree with licensure programs are also available at Christian Brothers University and are not described in detail in this catalog. Other bulletins for these programs are available in the Department of Education. If you already hold a bachelor's degree, please see the Director of Graduate Education in the Department of Education to have your transcript evaluated and to develop an appropriate program of study.
